

Thank You

The editors of SWOT Report are grateful to many. The SWOT team has made invaluable contributions of data, articles, and images. Thank you all for your time, resources, and expertise, and for your dedication to the mission of SWOT to create a global network that makes a difference for sea turtles and the ocean. We are particularly indebted to all of our authors (listed below); our photographers (credited along with their photos in this issue); our Editorial and Scientific Advisory Boards (see masthead, page 4); and the many generous donors, including Dan Cohen; the Goldring Family Foundation; George Meyer, Maria Semple, and Poppy; the Moore Family Foundation; Yasmin Namini; the Offield Family Foundation; the Panaphil Foundation; and the Anderson-Rogers Foundation.
